When this husiness had been completed the old board adjourned sine die, having performed their duties faithfully and well.

The new board was immediately called to order by County President Keenan, who installed Messrs. John Mulloy, Newton G. Rogers and Peter J. Cusick, representatives of Division I.

Upon motion it was decided that the County Board of Directors should cousist of seven members as heretofore, all of whom had been re-elected by their divisions. There had been some doubt as to the number required by the constitution, and this action disposes of the question until the national convention.

The County Board congratulated the old Board of Directors upon the work done during the past year, which was the most successful in the history of the order in Louisville. On Sunday last a yery successful meeting was held at Hacketstown, on the Pat Henchy and Joseph Grauconfines of Carlow and Wicklow, to establish a branch of the United Irish League. The attendance, which was both counties and constitutes a striking evidence of the revival of political ennational spirit, which in many districts of Leinster has manifested all too few signs of healthy activity during the past few years.

On the motion of Laurence Brennan Rev. Father Ramsbottom was called on to preside.

The reverend Chairman, who was warmly received, said they had come together to establish a branch of the United Irish League. That was the first occasion upon which he bad ever taken any public part in politics and his action was easily capable of explanation. During the past few years there was little to encourage any one to interfere in Irish politics and even during the past year events had occurred with which they did not all agree. So that it would not have been difficult for him, if he had been so inclined, to have discovered an excuse for his absence that day. But he was a strong believer in the unity of priests and people, and as they had expressed a desire to have the United Irish League established he felt it his duty to come there and assist in forming an organizatained injuries which may prove fatal. | attendance in l'arliament which was re-Shortly before 6 o'clock he, with a quired in the interests of the country, number of others, was unloading a car, and judging by their record this session Next Great Exposition WIII Be moreover, contains much authentic data with regard to Pere Gibault, the patriotic priest through whose efforts almost solely the States of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin were brought into the American Union. It is a matter for regret that so little nowadays is said of Pere Gihault and the great work he accomplished. In his now famous novel, 'Alice of Old Vincennes,' the late Maurice Thompson, a nou-Catholic, painted this French priest a hero, and one or two school histories of Indiana do him justice, yet for the most part his services remained unrecognized. If justice were done by the people of that great section he would have a monument. There is no doubt he deserves one as well as Pere Marquette, yet the politicians go on putting up monuments to men of their own kind, and even memory of Pere Gibault's deed is dying out.
